FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

$120,000 for RAINIER CHRISTIAN SCHOOLS!

South King County, WA (October 27, 2008) – More than three hundred guests attended the Rainier Christian Schools Fall Banquet, held Friday, October 17, 2008, at Grace Community Church in Auburn. Leading up to and throughout the evening, $120,000 has already been gifted and/or pledged for the 2008-2009 school year, thrusting RCS out of the starting blocks towards their goal of raising $500,000 for the 2008-2009 school year.

Special guest speaker Ryan Dobson delivered an engaging message of encouragement and hope for parents and students, challenging them to live boldly for Christ in all aspects of their lives. Mr. Dobson's personal anecdotes and stories—many humorous and many quite serious—vibrantly highlighted the incredible “return of investment” that can be derived from a quality Christian education.

Following Mr. Dobson's message, Superintendent Blair Bryant reinforced to guests what is, and will always be, at the heart of Rainier Christian Schools—a people and a ministry that is educating and developing each child for the glory of God.

There was no doubt, at night's end, that investing in the lives of young people, through support of Christian education, is well worth the cost.

With 950 students, at five different campuses throughout South King County, Rainier Christian Schools is uniquely positioned to provide an outstanding Christian education to its students, their families and the communities of South King County.

If you would like to discover what your gift of support could do for Rainier Christian Schools or you would simply like to learn about enrolling, visiting or learning about their programs, , please call 425-255-7273 or visit them at rainierchristianschools.org.
